JANUARY MEETING RECAP

Despite the cold and dreary weather, there was a good turnout at our January meeting at the Hampton Yacht Club. Pupilage Group III provided the members of the Inn with an interesting discussion of the ethical issues surrounding electronic communication and discovery, led by Leslie A. T. Haley of Haley Law, PC. Ms. Haley talked about some of the unique ethical problems that accompany electronic communications, such as a lesser level of control over communications and potential issues with metadata. Ms. Haley also discussed ethical issues arising out of the ever-expanding world of social media, including confidentiality issues and concerns about lawyer advertising and marketing, along with the importance of understanding the implications of social networking in order to provide competent representation.

TOASTING TORCH

Christy Murphy will be providing the traditional toast to begin the evening at the February meeting.

UPCOMING JOINT MEETING

The April meeting will be our annual joint meeting with the James Kent Inn of Court. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 14, 2015 at the Town Center City Club in Virginia Beach.

Until next issue . . .
