

What's Your ACE Score?

There are 10 types of childhood trauma measured in the ACE Study. Five are personal — physical abuse, verbal abuse, sexual abuse, physical neglect, and emotional neglect. Five are related to other family members — a parent who's an alcoholic, a mother who's a victim of domestic violence, a family member in jail, a family member diagnosed with a mental illness, and the disappearance of a parent through divorce, death or abandonment. Each type of trauma counts as one ACE. So, a person who's been physically abused, has an alcoholic parent, and a mother who was beaten up has an ACE score of 3.*

Prior to your 18th birthday:

1. Did a parent or other adult in the household often or very often... swear at you, insult you, put you down, humiliate you, or act in a way that made you afraid that you might be physically hurt?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
2. Did a parent or other adult in the household often or very often... Push, grab, slap, or throw something at you? or Ever hit you so hard that you had marks or were injured?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
3. Did an adult or person at least 5 years older than you ever... Touch or fondle you or have you touch their body in a sexual way? or Attempt or actually have oral, anal, or vaginal intercourse with you?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
4. Did you often or very often feel that ... No one in your family loved you or thought you were important or special? or Your family didn't look out for each other, feel close to each other, or support each other?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
5. Did you often or very often feel that ... You didn't have enough to eat, had to wear dirty clothes, and had no one to protect you? or Your parents were too drunk or high to take care of you or take you to the doctor if you needed it?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
6. Was a biological parent ever lost to you through divorce, abandonment, or other reason ?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
7. Was your mother or stepmother:
Often or very often pushed, grabbed, slapped, or had something thrown at her? or Sometimes, often, or very often kicked, bitten, hit with a fist, or hit with something hard? or Ever repeatedly hit over at least a few minutes or threatened with a gun or knife?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
8. Did you live with anyone who was a problem drinker or alcoholic, or who used street drugs?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
9. Was a household member depressed or mentally ill, or did a household member attempt suicide?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___
10. Did a household member go to prison?
No If Yes, enter 1 ___

Now, add up your "Yes" answers: _____ This is your ACE Score

* Note: There are, of course, many other types of childhood trauma — watching a sibling being abused, losing a caregiver (grandmother, mother, grandfather, etc.), homelessness, surviving and recovering from a severe accident, etc. The ACE Study included only those 10 childhood traumas because those were most commonly mentioned by a group of about 300 Kaiser members. Those traumas were also well studied individually in the research literature. The ACE score is meant as a guideline. If you experienced other types of toxic stress, especially chronically (over months or years), then those experiences would likely increase your risk of health consequences over the lifetime.

* This questionnaire, a scoring system modeled after the ACE Study questions, was developed by the early childhood service providers, pediatricians, psychologists, and health advocates of Southern Kennebec Healthy Start, Augusta, Maine, in 2006, and updated in February 2013. Two psychologists in the group, Mark Rains and Kate McClinn, came up with the 14 statements with editing suggestions given by other members of the group. Content of the questions was based on a number of research studies from the literature over the past 40 years including that of Emmy Werner and others. The questionnaire's purpose is limited to parenting education, as it was not developed for research.
