November 2007 Meeting Announcement:

Patent Exhaustion and Quanta Computer, Inc. v. LG Electronics, Inc.

Can a patent owner collect royalties from – or sue – several companies as its product works its way through the manufacturing process? Or does a license to one link in the chain effect a license throughout? The Supreme Court will hear arguments in January – but Inn members will beat them to the punch on November 28, 2007. We hope to see you there.
